Even old China is catching onto American machines. One American firm recently shipped $103,750 worth of sewing machines to that country.

The value of candy manufactured in this country last year is estimated at $75,000,000. New York City alone turned out about $20,000,000 worth.

The estimated output of iron for this country last year is 13,500,000 tons, which leads both Great Britain and Germany, the two greatest iron producers in Europe.

Last year New York's population increased 111,154, but according to the reports of the city board of health there were 646 fewer deaths than in 1898. Of the deaths recorded 3,373 were from violence.

For the past few months the mints of the country have been kept busy coining money to supply the demand and still we are told that there is money enough, if not too much, in the country.

An Indianapolis judge holds a souvenir of Hon. Daniel Boon, a note for $126 payable in gold, which note was never paid. But neither Daniel nor the man to whom the note was given are worrying over it.

The New England cotton mills have recently increased the wages of their employes ten per cent. But as the cost of living has increased from 25 to 30 per cent. it will take the wage earners some time to catch up.

An explosion of sewer gas in the little town of Knoxville, near Pittsburg, Pa., tore up several streets for several hundred feet, Sunday night, and wrecked a good many houses in which people were living. The surprising thing is that no one was injured.

Several people have been killed within the past week from the fool and the "unloaded" pistol being in too close conjunction. Among the killed were two young ladies at whom their sweethearts, in a spirit of playfulness, pointed the unloaded pistol, and pulled the trigger.

Don't you know it will be warm when Marion Butler, elected Senator through the negro vote, takes the stump against the constitutional amendment? If there is any one thing that will arouse the white manhood of North Carolina it will be the sight of Butler at the head of his black cohorts.

Disposed of Business and Gone.

Antonio Fantopula, the well known Greek confectioner on South Front street, has disposed of his interest in the business of A. Fantopula & Co., having sold the same to his partner, A. Carowcson, and has left the city. He has been gone for more than a week. A reporter was told by Carowcson yesterday afternoon that he went via New York and will visit the land of his nativity, going via Paris. This is his third trip to his old home since he has been a resident of Wilmington.

LOCAL DOTS.

The Marshall Case.

A reference to the STAR'S Raleigh correspondence this morning gives the full story of the first day's hearing in the case of A. J. Marshall, Esq., for counterfeiting.

The following witnesses left last night over the A. C. L., in response to summonses received yesterday afternoon: Sheriff Walter G. MacRae, Col. Walker Taylor, Messrs. R. W. Hicks and J. W. Duls.

Mr. W. A. Farriss also left on the same train as a witness for the defence.

Mr. John M. Mayland was summoned for the government, but he did not leave last night.

Popular Course Entertainment.

Mr. Herbert A. Sprague in an impersonation of Rip Van Winkle will be the next attraction in the Popular Course of Entertainment at the Y. M. C. A., Monday evening at 8.30 o'clock. The box sheet opens this morning at Yates' book store and closes at 7 o'clock Monday evening. Single admission is 50 cents; reserved seats 75 cents. Manager W. L. Latta promises his patrons in the entertainment a first class amusement fully up to the standard of other entertainments furnished in this course, which have made it already a favorite with the public.

Aftermath of The Freeze.

Yesterday when the sun came out and things began to thaw to some extent, property owners found that the freeze had bade them an unwelcome parting in leaving numerous burst water pipes, etc. The plumbers "got in" their "deadly" work and there was not a workman in town yesterday that was idle.

GRAND ESTABLISHMENT FOR WILMINGTON.

Astonishing Evolution Which Five Years Have Brought About in Warren's Steam Bakery—A Fine Cafe.

Within the past few years the march of progress in Wilmington has been marked. The tendency is to metropolitan concerns, and one establishment which has a decided metropolitan appearance is Warren's new steam bakery, cracker factory and cafe, at 22 N. Front street. The establishment has been removed from its former quarters on the opposite side of the street, and the eligible storeroom which it now occupies has been fitted out in the most elegant and modern style for the business.

Yesterday marked the final opening of the new place, and the "opening" continued till 10 o'clock last night. Ladies, gentlemen and children streamed into the magnificent establishment all day and up to the closing hour last night, and it is estimated that there were from 600 to 800 visitors.

A STAR scribe dropped in to take a view last night, and once on the inside it were easy to imagine that he was in a city ten times the size of Wilmington. In fact, the place would be a credit to the most thorough-going city in America.

The storeroom occupied by the bakery and cafe has a frontage of 22 feet and a floor length of 130 feet. The first thing to strike the eye is a handsome plate glass show window at the entrance, containing an artistic display of cakes and various products of the bakery. On stepping inside, one finds himself standing on a floor laid with linoleum which has all the appearance of being tiling, while he is in the midst of magnificent fixtures, with numbers of flashing mirrors, multimagnifying the electric lights and making a scene of real magnificence. On the north side of the store are two thirteen-foot counters of antique oak, highly polished, with bases of Italian marble, and above them carved oak panels alternating with sunburst mirror panels. Lining the counters are handsome show cases with a tempting display of the choicest things turned out in a Vienna bakery. Back of the counters are two handsome thirteen foot antique oak cake and bread cases, with artistic carvings, sliding glass doors and lockers underneath. At the top of each case are rows of sunburst mirrors, and on each side of the mirrors are carved dragons with electric lamps fixed in their mouths. The two cases are connected with fine 4 by 5 feet mirrors. On the south side of the room are two more elegant cases, having the sunburst mirror, dragon carvings and electric light effects similar to the two above described. The cases have Italian marble bases, and are connected by 4 by 5 feet mirrors. They are used for pies and delicacies of various kinds. These fixtures are on a floor space of sixty feet in length.

A few feet from the rear end of the counters is a magnificent antique oak partition with a setting of eighteen mirrors, including sunburst mirrors, dragons and electric lights like those of the cases. Against the partition is a settee upholstered with Russian leather. A swinging mirror door in the pastition opens into an up to-date cafe, with tiled linoleum on the floor and furnishings of antique oak tables and dent wood oak chairs. Back of the cafe is another antique oak partition very much like the first and containing a refrigerator having a capacity for 1000 lbs. of ice. Each partition is fitted with settes with Russian leather backs. To one side is an eight foot antique oak counter, back of which is a handsome case for dishes and cafe supplies. On the counter is an urn for hot chocolate and coffee. With fifty mirrors in the partitions and fixtures in the cafe, it is an ideal lunch room, and when the STAR man passed through the place was crowded with ladies who were being entertained with a lunch by the proprietors of the establishment As fast as the seats at the tables were vacated other ladies took their places, and at least 500 must have been served. Elaborate lunch menus in printed form lie on every table. Last night at 9.30 o'clock an order for an oyster supper was received from the Woodmen of the World, which met across the street, and it was carried over, with tables, and the whole affair was over by 10 10 P. M., which shows with what promptness and dispatch suppers can be served.

Back of the cafe is a storage room, and to the rear of it is the steam bakery and cracker factory, occupying a floor space of fifty feet. It is equipped with machinery run by electricity. Among the machinery is a four barrel dough-mixer that is run by electricity. There is also a power dough-brake and one of the latest machines for making crackers. At the extreme rear is the Vienna or steam oven which is lighted by electricity. Of course there are all the other appliances used in a first-class bakery, and there is no wonder that the product of the establishment is of the most superior kind. The bakery is in charge of Mr. R. O. Vaughan, who is an expert with over forty years' experience.

The entire establishment is under the management of Mr. R. F. Warren, who is assisted by Messrs. Fred Russ and Austin Sikes, two clever and polite young men. Five years ago this bakery was established and here we see what an evolution has been brought about by a continuous and unimpeded success.

— Miss Julia Parsley returned yesterday to St. Mary's College, Raleigh, after spending the holidays at home.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

Conference of Superintendents and Assistants at the Y. M. C. A. To-night.

Dr. W. C. Galloway, chairman of the devotional committee of the Y. M. C. A., has issued the following call to the superintendents, officers and teachers of the various Sunday schools in Wilmington:

"You are earnestly requested to meet with the devotional committee of the Y. M. C. A. in their parlors Friday evening, January 5th, 1900, at 8 o'clock, to advise with the committee concerning a conference of superintendents, officers and teachers of the respective Sabbath schools of the city to be held some time in January, as this joint meeting shall agree. As the benefits to be derived from this "conference" concern the spiritual welfare of each Sabbath School, it is very desirous that each superintend and assistant superintendent shall be present at this meeting."

Notice was carried around yesterday and about twenty superintendents and assistant superintendents signified their intention to be present.

The STAR has been requested to state that as it may not have been possible for those who carried around the notice to see all the superintendents and assistants, they will please take this as an invitation to attend the conference to-night.

"The Middle-Man."

Melodrama was repeated at the Opera House last night by the Woodward-Warren Opera Company. The play was entitled "The Middle-man" and was particularly strong, having to do with a story of sadness and sorrow, acted in such life-like manner as to place the drama on a par with such as "Tess of the Dubervilles," "Zaza," etc. It tells of a home wrecked by the waywardness of indiscreet youth. Mr. Francis Morey, in the title role, displayed marked ability and a wonderful knowledge of the histrionic act. He won great applause and was capable throughout.

A pleasant feature of the Woodward Company is the specialty act of Miss Grace Diamond and John Kieffer; their part alone is worth the admission price.

To-night, as announced, the performance will be for the benefit of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Mr. Woodward deserves great praise for his philanthropic act in thus helping along the boys, and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend this and subsequent performances.

White Man Arrested.

Charles Peters, a white man, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Sheehan and Policeman Leon George at Sixth and Swann streets, and with much difficulty he was landed in jail to await a hearing before Justice Jno. J. Fowler this morning at 10 o'clock. Peters, it is alleged, sold to Christopher Spicer, colored, a horse, for which part payment was made cash. Wednesday the last payment of $3 was offered by Spicer to Peters, but he refused to take it and went to the stables of Spicer and took the horse, which he afterwards, it is said, sold for $5. Spicer again on yesterday proffered the $3, but Peters refused it, whereupon he procured detinue proceedings from Justice Fowler and a warrant for the alleged offender for forcible trespass. The officers had to take him bodily to the jail, creating much curiosity along the streets.

Mark of Respect to Mrs. Jacobi.

Yesterday at 3:30 o'clock was the regular time for the monthly meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. That body met at the usual hour with a good attendance and was called to order by President W. E. Worth.

Mr. F. L. Huggins then announced the death of Mrs. N. Jacobi, mother of Mr. Marcus W. Jacobi, first vice president of the Chamber, and moved as a mark of respect to her memory and an expression of sympathy with Vice President Jacobi, that the Chamber adjourn without transacting any business.

The motion was seconded by Col. F. W. Kerchner, and thereupon was unanimously adopted.

The Chamber then adjourned, subject to the call of the president.

Live Oak Camp No. 6, W. O. W.

The following officers of Live Oak Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, were installed last night by Consul Commander John J. Fowler, to serve for the ensuing term:

Consul Commander—W. G. A. Ottersen.
Advisory Lieutenant—E. D. Warren.
Banker—W. H. Howell.
Camp Physician—C. D. Bell.
Managers—Benjamin Bell, Thos. R. Post, Dr. J. D. Webster.
Escort—J. W. Stormfeltz.
Watchman—W. V. Sellers.
Secretary—John L. Callahan.

After the installation services an oyster supper was served which was thoroughly enjoyed by those Woodmen present and a large number of friends.

Extraordinary Musical Event.

A number of those interested in the promotion of music in Wilmington have organized the "Piano Recital Organization of Wilmington," and the STAR learns that it is proposed from time to time to bring eminent pianists here to give recitals. Arrangements are now being made to have a recital by Edward Baxter Perry, the eminent blind pianist of Boston, and it is hoped to have him here about the middle of February.

BOY FELL TWENTY FEET.

Little Four-Year-Old Son of Mr. W. B. Cooper Experienced a Bad Fall.

Claude, the little four-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cooper, who reside at No. 207 North Fifth street, fell from the bay window on the second floor of the residence of his parents yesterday afternoon about six o'clock and sustained severe injuries but which fortunately are not thought to be very serious in their nature.

The little fellow with his brother was playing on the second floor and in an unguarded moment, he in some way came too near the open window and fell through to a brick wall about 20 feeet below. One of his hands was right badly injured but Mr. Cooper said last night that he hoped there were no internal injuries. Drs. Bellamy, Russell and Pigford were hastily summoned and gave the little fellow attention. He was resting very well last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper desire to thank all friends who called at their home yesterday evening and last night, for their consideration and kind offers of assistance.

Last summer while with his mother in the mountains, little Claude was the victim of another quite painful accident. The cook allowed a pot of boiling water to overturn and scald him badly, but he recovered soon, and his miraculous escape from fatal injury yesterday afternoon indicates that he is surely a child of fortune.

Wilmington Lodge, I. O. O. F.

The officers recently elected by Wilmington Lodge No. 139, I. O. O. F., were installed last night by District Deputy Grand Master B. J. Jacobs, assisted by Past Grands J. F. Littleton, J. J. Hopkins and W. L. Jacobs. They are as follows:

S. P. G.—J. J. Hopkins.
N. G.—J. W. Robinson.
V. G.—J. R. Turrentine, Jr.
R. S.—J. M. McGowan.
F. S.—J. M. McGowan.

Conductor—L. O. Ellis.
R. S. to N. G.—K. W. Jewell.
L. S. to N. G.—E. D. Craig.
R. S. to V. G.—W. L. Jacobs.
L. S. to V. G.—W. W. Roberts.
R. S. S.—W. J. Newton.
L. S. S.—C. W. Craig.
O. G.—J. J. Craig.
I. G.—R. C. DeRosset.
Chaplain—T. G. Landin.

Water We Sometimes Drink.

At the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon President W. E. Worth had on exhibition several quarts of water from driven wells in various sections of the city, and also a sample from the Rock Spring. Every sample contains a startling amount of organic matter, and, upon being brought face to face with the waters, many who have occasionally taken "a little water in ther'n" promised themselves never to be guilty of such rashness and folly again.

It would be a wise thing if all the water supply in the city were critically analyzed.

Met Last Night.

The Young People's Organ Fund Society of Grace M. E. Church met last night in the Lecture room of the church. It was expected that at the meeting an election of officers would be held, but the matter was postponed indefinitely on account of the slim attendance.

It was decided at the meeting to give an entertainment each month for a period of six months, during which time it is expected that enough will be realized to purchase the instrument desired. Between $1,500 and $1,600 is already in hand for this purpose.

The Elks' Benefit.

The Woodward-Warren Company's benefit performance for the Elks, to be given at the Opera House to-night, will no doubt attract the audience of their engagement. Besides the comedy bill of the company, there will be a specialty bill by a team of Elks composed of Dr. T. B. Carroll, Dr. C. T. Harper, and Messrs. Warren S. Johnson, J. P. Taylor, S. A. Schloss, W. A. French, Jr., Thos. H. Wright, J. H. Sweeney, J. R. Turrentine, Jr., Jake Solomon, E. E. David, E. C. Cohen and Guy Woodward. This feature will be rare, rich and racy.

Obsequies of Mrs. Jacobi This Afternoon.

The obsequies of the lamented Mrs. N. Rosalie Jacobi, who passed away suddenly Wednesday evening, will take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence on Third and Grace streets. The interment will be made at Oakdale cemetery.

Mr. Joe N. Jacobi, son of the deceased, who was absent in South Carolina, was reached by telegram at Conway and yesterday afternoon he reached home in response to the sad summons.

River Shipping.

The steamer Driver arrived at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Fayetteville and will clear on the return early this afternoon.

The Hawes came in also late yesterday afternoon. She arrived from Clear Run and will return this afternoon.

A Small Blaze.

A small blaze in the dwelling of James Dry, colored, No. 509 North Seventh street, at 5.40 o'clock yesterday afternoon, called out the department in response to an alarm from Box 31. The building is owned by Eustis Green, and the damage is about $9.00.

OPERA HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT.

The Original Nashville Students and Genuine Negro Minstrels Coming.

A big, bright, crisp, wholesome minstrel show is announced at the Opera House Monday, January 8th, for one night only. The Wright's Original Nashville Students, combined with Gideon's big minstrel carnival, is claimed to be the best of the kind in its line of entertainment. Forty five talented entertainers are said to be included in its programme, two big military bands, a symphony orchestra, ten unequalled soloists, and the programme embodies a string of strong vaudeville and minstrel acts of a meritorious kind, stamped with originality calculated to please. A big pageantic street parade is among its out-door offerings and a big free concert at 7.15 in front of the Opera House. As customary for this class of performances the entire lower floor will be reserved for white people.

The sale of seats opens at Gerken's to morrow morning. The prices are: Reserved seats, 75 cents; admission, 50 cents; gallery, 25 cents.

Family Re-union.

Mrs. Rosana King, surrounded by sixty-eight of her 108 descendants, sons, grand and great-grand children, last Tuesday celebrated her seventy-ninth birthday at her residence in this city on Fifth between Queen and Wooster streets. Each birthday of her life, in late years, her children gather in a family re-union at the old homestead and spend a day in worship and gift giving. To day at noon sixty eight members of the family will gather and have a photograph taken, which will be preserved and handed down from generation to generation. Another photograph will also be made of Mrs. King, her oldest son, Mr. Isaac King, her grandson, Mr. E. G. King, and one of her great-grand children.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 5.

GAMBLING ON THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

Ever since the pensioning system began pension schemes have been the stock in trade of some politicians, who play pensions for the votes there are in them. They have been doing this thing for thirty odd years, and if all the pension schemes that have been concocted and introduced in Congress had gone through the American people would now be paying at least $300,000,000 a year in pensions, and probably more. In all this time the pension attorneys have been active in devising pension schemes, and in assisting Congressmen with suggestions, etc. They seem to have been very active for some time, judging from the number of new pension bills that have already been introduced, although Congress has not yet been thirty days in session. These bills number over a hundred, not including a lot of private pension bills, which, according to the custom of Congress, are generally run through in job lots on odd days when Congress hasn't much of anything else to do. The Philadelphia Ledger, which keeps a pretty close eye on this pension plundering, gives the following summary of the more important of the bills already introduced:

"By Senator Cullom, one to pension deserters, and another to give $30 per month to all veterans over 70 years old (or their widows) who served 90 days in the War of the Rebellion; by Representative Gibson, to pay $12 a month to teamsters injured while employed in the Union army, to pay to Union soldiers or sailors confined in rebel prisons $2 per day for each day of imprisonment and $12 a month for life, to pay $50 a month to helpless soldiers or sailors, partly blind or with loss of hands or feet, whether their injuries were received in the war or since, to restore to the rolls soldiers dropped because of their enlistment for the Spanish war; by Representative Fitzgerald, to give $12 per month to survivors of the war who have reached the age of 60 years; by Representative Graham, providing a monthly payment of 1 cent per day for each day in the service, in addition to any pension the individual may now be receiving; by Representative Berry, to give all widows and survivors of the Mexican and Indian wars $12 per month; by Representative Cochran, to give all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors a service pension of $8 per month, to give all disabled and totally dependent veterans 70 years of age $15 per month, to give disabled veterans 70 years old $35 per month, and 75 years old $45 per month; by Representative Grosvenor, to grant a pensionable status to 516 commissioners and surgeons of enrolling boards, to define the limit of income for a widow which would bar her from receiving a pension at $300 per month, to restore all back pensions to persons temporarily dropped from the rolls; by Representative De Vries, to pay veterans of the Mexican War who served in the Civil War $24 per month. The pension bill of Representative Stephens is unique in that it aims to restrict pensions by excluding from the rolls foreigners, veterans owning $1,000 worth of property, and persons whose income from public office is greater than the amount of the pension they are receiving."

The bill of Mr. Stephens seems to be out of the usual line and has some merit in it, a very good reason why it will receive little consideration from a Republican Congress. Since Senator Cullom has discovered what the public thinks of his bill to pension bounty jumpers and deserters, he says he introduced it by request without examination and that when it comes up he will oppose it; but introducing bills without examination, especially bills that would if passed take millions of dollars out of the Tressury, isn't saying much for the way that Senator Cullom attends to business and guards the interest of the people whom he represents.

Although the revenue of the Goverment now is much larger than usual in consequence of the war taxes which yield about $200,000,000 a year, about one-fourth of the total revenue goes to pay pensions, and the bills already introduced would probably call for that much more, without taking into account the sum that may be added by the names that will go upon the rolls of soldiers who have served in the Cuban and and Philippine wars.

As it doesn't make any difference whether a soldier who was mustered into the service saw active service or not, he will in the event of "disability contracted in the service," be entitled to a pension and considering the number of men who were enrolled for the war for Cuba, and since for the war in the Philippines, amounting in all to something over 300,000, we may possibly imagine the number of names that may yet be added to the pension rolls, especially when we are told that there are already 25,000 applications on file in the Pension Office at Washington. The pension attorneys haven't yet had a fair show at the soldiers of these two wars, but from the start they have made and the industry shown in already securing 25,000 names there is little probability of their overlooking many. They have got this business down so fine that the soldier whom they can't persuade into the belief that there is something the matter with him to entitle him to a pension will be the exception. They understand their business so well that they have no difficulty in making an ordinarily well and robust man feel like a physical wreck, and utterly dependent upon Government care.

They have been very much aided in carrying out their game by the teachings of the politicians who have been playing for the soldier vote and have been telling the soldiers from the stump and elsewhere that they "saved the country," and that it and all in it practically belongs to them, which the soldiers have heard so often that many of them have come to believe it is so, and consequently have no scruples or hesitation in asking for pensions, whether they need or are entitled to them or not.

As one illustration of this there are thousands of able-bodied men on the pension lists to-day drawing pensions, and among them some who are earning good salaries in the Government service and elsewhere, and some millionaires who actually draw disability pensions, which are supposed to go only to men who are by physical disability from wounds or disease unable to earn a support. Some of these are Senators and others Representatives, who spend five times as much as their salary amounts to, and yet they have the monumental cheek to draw their pensions regularly. When this class of men do that is it surprising that the ordinary man, who has little money and must work for a living, should become a pension seeker, when getting pensions is such an easy matter and when the hustling pension attorneys try their persuasive methods on him?

A full Treasury is always a temptation to the Congressman who is courting home support at the expense of the people, and as the money is coming in pretty freely now we may naturally look for schemes to take it out. That has been the rule heretofore with Republican Congresses, and this one, judging from the number of plundering schemes already proposed, will discount previous Congresses by heavy odds.

If the American people stand all this without stern rebuke then they ought to be plundered, for they will deserve it.

OF COURSE THEY WILL.

A Raleigh dispatch says Cyrus Thompson, Chairman of the Populist State Committee, has called that body to meet in Raleigh on the 18th inst., and that there is little doubt that the Populist and Republicans will fuse, as heretofore. Of course they will. The difference between these fusing Populists and Republicans is so little, that they are to all intents and purposes, practically the same. They are all after the same thing, the spoils of office and that is why they fuse and keep fusing. As for principle, it is a mere burlesque and mockery when they pretend to have any regard for that, for the Populist utterly ignores the principles he professes when he fuses with a party which is opposed to all of them, and the Republican ignores the principles he professes when he fuses with a party which he has been denouncing as wild and revolutionary and ridiculing as absurd and cranky.

But it isn't the people of either of these parties who are in the fusing business; it is the self-constituted leaders, who are looking out for themselves, who are hungry for office, and are using the people whom they lead to accomplish their schemes. Marion Butler wants to go to the Senate again, Cy. Thompson wants a seat in Congress or something else at which he can make a comfortable living without much work, and the Republican fusers have their eyes on soft snaps and each feels the need of the help of the other to get what they are longing for. Fuse, why of course they will, but their fusing will not save them for the Populist machine runners have lost their grip and they can't pull the wool over the eyes of the men who once followed them, as they had been doing up to the last election.

Sir Roderick Cameron predicted some time ago that Canada would annex the whole of New England. We don't know what reputation Sir Rod may have as a prophet, but it would have been a good thing for this country if Canada had done that about fifty years ago.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at ROBT. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

SENATOR HOAR IS RIGHT.

Senator Hoar very properly protests against the summary manner in which resolutions asking for information in reference to events in the Philippines are suppressed, and no attention paid to them. There are times, doubtless, in the midst of war with a foreign power when it may not be consistent with the public welfare to make public all the information asked for, but this is not the case now, for there are no foreign complications nor danger of any, and if the "insurrection" is as nearly suppressed as General Otis says it is the Filippinos can get no help or encouragement from any information that may be transmitted to the Senate.

But transmitting information to the Senate does not necessarily make it public, for the Senate has committees to which all such business is referred and those committees should be endowed with discernment enough to distinguish between what it is proper to make public and what not. They ought to be quite as competent for that as the State, War or Navy Departments.

Upon Congress devolves the duty of legislation as to those islands and providing a system of government for them when armed resistance is overcome. Mr. McKinley has said that with the ratification of the treaty with Spain his responsibility ceased and the duty of adopting a policy devolved upon Congress. That was true, but Mr. McKinley and his chiefs of Departments persist in ignoring Congress, and in refusing to give the information asked for, to enlighten it as to the actual situation in the islands and light the way to the policy to be adopted. Thus far all Congress has to go on is the reports as published in the dispatches and so much of the official reports as the administration may see fit to make public. The leaders upon whom devolves the duty and responsibility of adopting a policy to be pursued, and of legislating for the government of those islands, know really no more about the past or present situation than the average person who keeps up with the current news, as published from day to day.

But Congress should know all the facts that it might act with a full knowledge of what it was doing, and go about its legislation intelligently, and therefore Senator Hoar is right in insisting upon respectful consideration of the inquiries made by the representatives of the States and of the people. This is a government by Congress, not by the administration.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— In Admiral Montojo's estimation it was not fair for Dewey to stand off at a distance where the Spanish guns could not reach his vessels, and from that safe point bombard them at his leisure. Montojo thinks this is not honorable warfare, and the point is worth the attention of those British Generals in South Africa who find that their artillery is outclassed by that of the Boers.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

—— It appears from Admiral Montojo's account of the Manila battle that Admiral Dewey was not at all chivalric. Having better ships, better guns, better armor and better men, Dewey just held Montojo's fleet off beyond the latter's reach and pounded it to pieces. Presumably, according to the Spaniard's notion Dewey should have come up where he might have been hit, if not indeed have profferred the loan of a few big guns and the men to go with them.—Savannah News, Dem.

Unless there shall be a marked improvement in the wool prices in this country as compared with foreign markets the proposed reduction of wool duties through reciprocal arrangements with the Argentine Republic will not be likely to lead to a renewal of importations. Europe offers the inducement of free ports, smaller freight charges and higher prices. Under these circumstances the wool will go to Europe.——Philadelphia Record, Dem.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on R. R. BELLAMY, druggist, and get a 10c trial bottle. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Lumberton Robesonian. A hen belonging to J. C. Rose laid a peculiar egg last week. In appearence it did not differ from the ordinary egg, but when Mrs. Rose picked it up it was unusually light and on breaking the shell there was nothing inside. The shell had not been previously broken for the egg to leak out, and the opinion is that the shell was empty when laid.

She has not yet regained her voice.

Cunningham attempted to chastise his wife, when Terrell interposed, and a free fight ensued. Terrell has made his escape, and his whereabouts are unknown.

— Wilson News: John Suggs was found frozen in the bottom of his boat on the shore of Bogue Banks Saturday afternoon, near Morehead. He left there Friday to go oystering. The wind shifted to the northwest during the afternoon, blowing a gale, sleeting and snowing, and prevented his return. He was frozen to death during the night —— At Sandy Beneti's, near Saratoga, on January 1, there was a watermelon feast. A fine one had been kept over and was in excellent condition when cut, ripe and red.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Treasurer Worth will to-day issue a circular letter to all county treasurers of State asking them not to send in the warrants for the pro rata part of the special appropriation of $100,000 to public schools as the treasury is not in a condition to permit the payment of the warrants at this time. The letter will say, however, that by the time the schools open for the fall term it will be possible for the treasury to make the payments. Treasurer Worth said yesterday in reply to a question that if the warrants are sent in at this time he will return them to the county treasurers. He added that he would not pay any of the warrants until the treasury is in a condition to pay all.

TOPICS OF THE TURF.

In the first heat of the 2:17 pace, at Albany, Billy Andrews reduced his record from 2:14¾ to 2:09¼.

The two winning races of Lecco, 2:14¼, caused a jump in his sale price, and his owner asked $10,000 for the horse when offered $5,000.

Both Anaconda and Searchlight lowered their records in the 2:04 pace at Cleveland the other day, the gelding to 2:04¼, the stallion to 2:03½.

Royal Baron worked a mile in 2:12½ at Hartford before being shipped west to start in the M. and M. at Detroit. The Baron's mark is now 2:11.

W. W. Taylor, secretary of the driving park association at Ottawa, Ills., has been engaged to act as presiding judge at the New York grand circuit meeting.

In Kate McCracken J. Walter Lovatt, Bethlehem, Pa., seems to have a sure enough 2:10 trotter for this year, for in her race at Cleveland recently she was good enough to be right at Copeland's shoulder in 2:09¾.

A solid silver mounted set of double harness, valued at $500, will be one of the prizes to be won at the Denver horse show next September. The prize list will aggregate $5,000, of which $2,500 was some time ago in sight.

James B. Iverson, Salinas, Cal., has leased the racing qualities of the pacing stallion Guidon for 1899 from W. J. Hill, owner, same city. The horse has no record, but plenty of speed, and is by Almont Patchen, 2:15, out of Minnie L, by Anteros.

At the matinee of the Milwaukee Driving club July 17 the pacing stallion Senator Mitchell, owned by F. C. G. Brand, paced a half mile at National park in 1:06, breaking the track record for a half mile of 1:06¼, held by Kalmia, property of Harry Johns.

Sunland Belle, owned by Harry Devereux, has won five straight matinee races at Cleveland, and three times she has pulled a wagon a mile in 2:13¼, the best previous record for a pacing mare to wagon being 2:15¾. Six of her nine heats have been in 2:15 or better.—Horseman.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

The Alaskan boundary dispute is one of those comparatively small questions which sometimes cause trouble between nations. Diplomacy and statesmanship have much trouble in wrestling with these problems, for such they generally become before a settlement is reached. Chairman Fairbanks, one of the American members of the British-American joint high commission, has recently returned from a trip to Alaska, where he made a thorough investigation in line with the duties of his official position. His report had considerable to do with the position recently taken on the question by the state department.

SENATOR CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

Captain Meeks Rewarded.

Another officer of the Seventy-first regiment has been rewarded by the government for brilliant conduct during the Cuban campaign. He is Captain William F. Meeks of Company I. He has been appointed a captain in the volunteer army and will take charge of some company destined for service in the Philippines. In the battle of San Juan Hill Captain Meeks, who had a brilliant record in the national guard, led his company into the thick of the fight and received praise from the regular army officers for the assistance he rendered.

When the troubles of the Seventy-first were at the bitterest point, Captain Meeks and Captain Anthony J. Bleecker of Company B issued a short statement giving to the public the facts as they existed during the three days' fighting around San Juan. This statement was resented by the officers upon whom it was supposed to reflect, and at the instance of Lieutenant Colonel Smith Captains Bleecker and Meeks were court martialed. They were formally reprimanded for a technical violation of a state guard regulation forbidding officers to discuss regimental affairs publicly.

Lieutenant Colonel Smith was afterward publicly accused of conduct detrimental to the honor of the militia by Governor Roosevelt.

Another Title For Irving.

"Nothing succeeds like success." Henry Irving made a great success in his chosen profession, the stage, and, by grace of her majesty the queen of England, we call him Sir Henry. Glasgow university didn't think the great actor had been honored enough and on July 20 conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws. After the conferring of the degree the students sang, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and the new LL. D. was given an ovation by a large and fashionable audience.

SIR HENRY IRVING

Gallifet's Handsome Wife.

In all the accounts of the new French minister of war the fact of his having been the husband of one of the greatest beauties of the second empire appears to have been overlooked. But the Marquise de Gallifet was a rival of Boston's greatest belle, Fanny Carter, then Mrs. Ronalds, who turned even Napoleon III's head and captured pretty much of Europe in her net before settling down in London. The Marquise de Gallifet was a glorious blond, and history has it that the Empress Eugenie rather objected to her coloring, as it paled her own by contrast. Now both ladies are long past the period of caring, yet it is said that General de Gallifet's wife is still a handsome woman.—Boston Herald.

Jules Verne No Traveler.

Jules Verne, in spite of the fact that so many of his books relate to doings in foreign parts, has traveled very little. When he is going to write a story, and has settled the scene of it, he sets to work to read up books relating to that particular part of the world. Perhaps it is just as well that he is not dependent, as so many novelists are, on visiting different countries before describing them, as otherwise he would have been compelled to travel to the moon and journey both in the depths of the sea and the bowels of the earth.

Henpeck—Well, if you'll just wait around long enough it'll run down.—Philadelphia Record.

"Why did your last girl leave you?" was the prompt retort.—Chicago Post.

HERE'S PROOF

Miss Carrie Sparr, 2780 Cherry Street, Kansas City, Mo., writes: "Six weeks ago I began using the Seven Sutherland Sisters' Scalp Cleaner and Hair Grower. Diamonds In America.

People still wonder at the expert knowledge that enabled the representative of the government to determine how many of Mrs. Phyllis E. Dodge's diamonds were bought in America and how many in Europe. But this is really a simple matter enough. In the United States we cut diamonds by machinery, while in Europe they are cut by hand in the old way. It is not difficult to tell the difference. Amsterdam was the great diamond cutting center of the world for hundreds of years, at one time as many as 12,000 of her people being directly engaged in the art, but American ingenuity, which never yet has been outdone, has invented methods that are fast transferring the trade to our shores. There are diamonds in this country to the value of some $500,000,000, and our holdings are increasing rapidly.—New York Press.

It is not only beautiful women who hang over the mirror in the morning. Anxious women who are watching the wasting of their beauty, stand before the mirror and note the increasing lines etched by pain about the mouth and eyes. Thousands of such women, wrecked in body and in disposition, haggard, nervous, irritable, cross, have by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription been entirely cured, and watched with delight the progress of the cure, marked by brightening eyes, reddening cheeks, and rounding forms.

Woman's general health depends largely upon the local health of the organs distinctively feminine. Irregular periods in maidenhood, followed after marriage by debilitating drains, and the common consequences of motherhood, inflammation, ulceration, and displaced organs, ruin the general health. These conditions are entirely removed by "Favorite Prescription," the body blossoms in a new beauty, and the mind is entirely freed from gloom and despondency. "Favorite Prescription" is not a stimulant, containing no alcohol or whisky.

"In October 1896 I gave birth to a baby and the treatment I received at the hands of the midwife left me with female weakness," writes Mrs. Cordelia Henson, of Coalton, Boyd Co., Ky. "I had no health to speak of for three years. I had another baby which was the third child. My health began to fail and I had three miscarriages so I found myself completely worn out. I had so many pains and aches my life was a burden to me and also to all the family, for I was nervous and cross and I could not sleep. Just after my last miscarriage (in 1896) I was taken with a severe pain in left side. Had four doctors come to see me but at last I found I was slowly dying. The doctors said I had liver, lung and uterine trouble. I was in bed for months and when I did get up I looked like a corpse walking about. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Favorite Prescription, and 'Pellets,' and ever since then I have been a well woman. At my monthly period now, I have no pain. My cheeks are red and my face is white, but before it was as yellow as saffron."

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, January 4.—While the market for cotton futures was not active to-day, it overcame an attack made by a prominent banking concern which has been until this week recognized as a bull leader. This concern made a fierce attack on the market late yesterday afternoon and renewed it early this morning, with drawing later in the session. This concern sent bearish telegrams by the thousand all over the country. Yet the market made a stubborn resistance to the selling pressure that followed, and after opening steady at a decline of three to five points the course of prices was upward, at one time showing a net gain of five to six points and finally closing firm at an advance of three to five points. In view of the prestige of the house referred to the insignificant response made to their bearish predictions excited much comment as reflecting inherent strength. The Southern markets, with one exception, all sustained former prices for spot cotton. This phase of the situation led to covering, especially as receipts at the ports continued upon a small scale and advices from the interior were not calculated to help matters. During the morning there was quite a good investment demand for the West and South. Europe traded on both sides of the account. The market in the afternoon was more active Brilliancy.

Crow—Say, old man, here's a dime if you'll let us feed here.—New York Journal.

Needless Solicitude.

Master—Mary, I wish you would be more careful. I am very sorry to hear my wife has to scold you so often.

Mary—Oh, don't you mind me, sir. I don't take any notice of it.

A Ladies' Man.

Patient—I believe you are a very successful operator?

Dentist—Madam, you may be sure I spare no pains.—Ally Sloper.

Converted.

"My dear," said Mrs. Hunewell as she poured the coffee at breakfast the other morning, "do you believe in the eternal fitness of things?"

"I used to," replied Hunewell, "but that was before you began to make my shirts."

One Blessing.

"Am I to understand that this is what you call a safety bicycle?"

"It is, sir."

"Well, thank goodness I never tried to ride the other kind!"—Comic Cuts.

At a Country House.

"Well, my dear admiral, and how did you sleep?"

"Not at all, general. Confounded butterfly flew in at the window and was flopping around all night—couldn't get a wink of sleep."

"Ah, dashed dangerous things, butterflies!"—Punch.

Favorite Pursuits.

"Dorothy, women act like idiots in a bargain rush."

"Well, Richard, don't forget how men act scuffling for supper on an excursion steamer."—Chicago Record.

Away Off.

Yeast—The north pole seems to be away off, doesn't it?

Crimsonbeak—Yes; and so do the fellows who think they can find it.—Yonkers Statesman.

Reginald's Mistake.

Miss Mirabelle Mark was a beautiful maid,
So rounded and buxom and plump,
And never to ride on a wheel she'd essayed,
Nor stood on the pedals to pump;
As a matter of fact, ambition she lacked,
As an athlete she was but a chump.

Now Reginald Snook was a demon to ride,
And he worshiped Miss Mirabelle Mark,
So he called with a tandem one night in his pride
And persuaded her forth to the park;
He thought him in luck as her suit of white duck
Shone forth like a moon in the dark.

You may see them set forth, With a giggle and squeal
Miss Mirabelle gets on behind;
Bold Reginald balances then on the wheel,
Commencing to labor and grind—
She is heavy to lift, and she won't work a bit,
And it will not be easy, he'll find.

You may see them return. They had gone but a mile
When Reginald up and he balked;
"You aren't worth a cent; move your feet for awhile!"
And she fretted, perspired and talked,
But she wouldn't work hard, and his language it jarred,
So in silence they come—they have walked!

BARIUM ROCK SPRING WATER,

(Old Poison Spring), is nature's specific for every form of skin disease and blood poison. It does not, like soap and ointment, merely destroy for a time the external signs, but goes to the root of the evil and drives out the poison in the blood which causes the eruptions to appear.

METHODIST PARSONAGE.
ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Oct 14 1898.

I can bear testimony to the great value of Barium Rock Spring Water for Eczema and other eruptive diseases of the skin. I have KNOWN MANY CASES CURED, some of them of the most stubborn character.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 5,

ARGUMENT COMMENCED IN THE ROBERTS CASE.

Mr. Schroeder, Head of the Gentile Delegation from Utah, Contends Roberts' Citizenship is Still Impaired.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, January 4.—The Roberts investigating committee resumed its session to day for the purpose of hearing arguments and bringing the inquiry to an early conclusion.

Chairman Tayler (Ohio) stated that the statement of a witness absent in Utah had been received, but as Mr. Roberts declined to admit it in an informal manner the matter would have to be taken up later.

Mr. Schroeder, head of the Gentile delegation here to oppose Roberts, then opened the argument against Roberts.

"The evidence clearly shows," proceeded Mr. Schroeder, "that since 1880 Mr. Roberts has been in the status of a polygamist, and the question is as to the effect of this status." He said that while Utah was a territory, there was no doubt as to Roberts' disfranchisement under the Edmunds and Tucker act. And when Utah was admitted to statehood, Mr. Schroeder contended, Roberts' citizenship was still impaired. The status of polygamy was such that Roberts could not relieve himself from it without some affirmative act.

As to the right of the House to exclude, Mr Schroeder said: "Suppose a raging maniac should present himself at the bar of the House and ask admission on proper credentials, could not the House in self-protection deny his admission? Suppose a man afflicted with leprosy presented himself would not the House have power to keep him out?"

Mr. Schroeder said that Roberts had admitted his relationship with his plural wives. He had publicly said he would "be d—d" if he would give up his wives. This was an offence against public morals.

Polygamy Discussed.

The afternoon hearing was enlivened when Senator Rawlins of Utah, was drawn into a discussion of polygamy.

Chairman Tayler asked Mr. Rawlins, who was once a d legate from Utah, if it was not understood at the time the State was admitted that polygamy was at an end.

"It was my understanding," said Mr. Rawlins, "that the solemnization of polygamous marriages was interdicted by the Mormon Church and that this would have a salutary effect in terminating the practice. But I did not hold out to Congress that family relations already established would be broken up."

Mr. Tayler asked if it was expected that the law against polygamy would be violated.

Mr. Rawlins answered that it was thought there might be sporadic cases, but as a general system, polygamous relations would gradually terminate.

"Do you think," continued Mr. Taylor, "that Utah would have been admitted if it had been understood that in a few years Utah would send to Congress a man maintaining polygamous relations?"

Mr. Rawlins said he did not think Congress believed the practice of polygamy would be continued. The course of events in recent years had clearly shown that the practice would end in time.

Mr. Schroeder concluded his argument, which related mainly to the historical aspect of polygamy and the law in the case.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster addressed the committee in behalf of the great number of women interested in the case, and who were not represented before the committee.

The committee adjourned until 10.30 A. M. to-morrow.

NEGROES IN THE SOUTH.

Their Condition—Education—One-third of the Race Has Retrograded.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, January 4.—H. B. Frissel, principal of the Hampton, Va., Normal and Industrial Institute, appeared before the industrial commission to-day. He spoke of the condition of the colored people and the industrial conditions of the South. The small farms are rapidly increasing, he said, and in many sections the condition of the negro is better than in slavery days. The farmers are unable to break away from the lien system of crops, and wages are small. Although the South has spent one hundred millions of dollars on public education for negroes, one third of the race has actually retrograded, one-third is where it was at the beginning of the war, and the remainder have advanced. Negroes, he said, have been taught that their salvation will be found through political means rather than by hard work.

LUMBER MANUFACTURERS.

N. C. Pine Association Will Have Exhibit at the Paris Exposition.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 4.—The North Carolina Pine Association, composed of lumber manufacturers of Virginia and North Carolina, at a meeting held to day accepted the invitation to make an exhibit in the Forestry Department of the United States at the Paris Exposition. The exhibit will include hundreds of specimens of dressed and undressed long-leaf pine lumber (which was to-day advanced one dollar per thousand) and will be forwarded on a special ship in about thirty days. The exhibit is now being prepared. A representative will be sent to Paris to take charge of it.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

Several Deaths from the Disease in Chatham County—Rigid Quarantine.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, January 4.—There is now an epidemic of smallpox in Chatham county, this State, and several persons have died from the disease. It is certain that it was carried there by negroes from Greensboro, and this has caused outbreaks in several places in the county, and in order to protect the citizens of the county against any more smallpox cases coming from Greensboro, the county commissioners have decided to quarantine against the whole of Guilford county.

Italy has returned a favorable response to the recent note of the State Department at Washington respecting the "open door" in China. Italy was the last of the great Powers remaining to be heard from.

ALDRICH OPENS THE DISCUSSION.

Debate in the Senate on the Substitute for the House Financial Bill.

ESTABLISH GOLD STANDARD

Beveridge's Expansion Resolution—The House Proceedings—Sulzer's Resolution Calling for Information Passed—Boer Sympathy.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—In accordance with the notice previously given by him, Senator Aldrich to-day opened the discussion of the Financial bill in the Senate, with a speech in explanation of the Senate substitute for the House bill. The speech was carefully prepared and was read from manuscript. It was delivered in clear and distinct language, but without any effort at oratory. The Senators present gave him careful attention, but no one interrupted him with questions or otherwise during the delivery, nor did any one manifest a disposition to reply after he had concluded.

Senator Beveridge, Indiana, presented the following resolution: "That the Philippine islands are territory belonging to the United States; that it is the intention of the United States to retain them as such, and to establish and maintain such governmental control throughout the archipelago as the situation may demand."

Senator Beveridge asked that the resolution lie upon the table until next Tuesday when he will speak upon it.

A message from the President was read, transmitting the testimony taken by the commission appointed to investigate the conduct of the war by the War Department.

A resolution was presented by Senator Pettigrew, calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for the report of Admiral Dewey of April 13, 1898, in which the admiral said he could take Manila at any time. He asked immediate consideration, but Senator Spooner objected and the resolution went over.

Senator Allen's resolution calling for correspondence between the Treasury Department and the National City Bank and the Hanover National Bank of New York was agreed to with modifications.

The consideration of Senator Pettigrew's resolution concerning the advances reported to have been made by Aguinaldo through General Torres to General Otis, after the beginning of hostilities in the Philippines was postponed until Monday.

Gold the Standard.

The Senate at 1 55 P. M. took up the Financial bill and Senator Aldrich addressed the Senate. He said:

"The general purpose of the bill is to declare anew that gold is the monetary standard of the United States; to establish confidence in the intention and ability of our government to give the greatest possible measure of stability in value to its currency, and to provide the means for securing for it at all times an equal purchasing power with gold; to lighten i every possible way the burdens impressed upon the taxpayer by existing public obligations and to strengthen the public credit. No departure is intended by this bill from the public policy which was adopted years ago, and has been consistently adhered to through successive administrations.

"The bill now before the Senate contains no disavowal of the position heretofore taken upon the question of international bimetallism and places no obstacles in the way of its accomplishment in the future. If it is possible to secure permanence of relative value to gold and silver coins with the free coinage of both metals at a fixed ratio, this permanence can only be secured by concurrent action of all the leading commercial nations."

Senator Aldrich accused the Democratic party of advocating a policy that would lead to silver monometallism, and declared it was not a bimetallic party at all.

"The committee do not suggest any changes in the status of the silver dollar or the silver certificate. We do not propose to take away from silver any of the monetary privileges or prerogatives which it now enjoys. In fact, we believe that the legislation suggested will greatly strengthen its position in our monetary system."

The Senator defended the refunding provisions of the bill as a precautionary measure, in view of possible future increase of the public debt.

At the close of the speech the Senate went into executive session, adjourning at 3 20 o'clock until next Monday.

House of Representatives.

The House session was very brief again to day, the only incident being the adoption of the Sulzer resolution introduced yesterday, calling upon Secretary Gage for all information regarding the deposit of government funds in certain national banks. The resolution as adopted was made more general in its scope and an amendment was added to cover information respecting the transactions relating to the sale of the New York custom house site. Secretary Gage's friends had been informed that he courted the fullest investigation and was prepared to submit all the facts to Congress Accordingly there was no friction over the passage of the resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Levy offered an amendment to the resolution, which included a request for the secretary's reasons for delaying the deposits in national banks until the panic had occurred. Mr. Levy said he had warned the secretary in September that a panic was imminent. Had the secretary heeded that warning and deposited government funds in national banks in September and October instead of buying bonds, the panic would have been averted.

The amendment was promptly ruled out of order and the resolution as offered by Mr. Payne was adopted.

Representative Quarles, of Virginia, introduced the following resolution:

"Resolved, That we hereby extend to our two sister republics in Africa—the Transvaal and the Orange Free State—our deepest sympathy in the noble, brave and patriotic struggle they are now making to preserve their governments from destruction by the hands of monarchy."

The House, at 12 20, adjourned until Monday.

News has roached Canton, China, that a battle occurred between natives near Wang Chiun and the French forces stationed there. It is said that the Chinese routed the French and pursued them for some distance. The French loss was thirty killed. The Chinese losses are not stated.

NO CHANGE IN WAR SITUATION.

No Movement of Generals Methuen and French's Forces Are Reported.

BULLER'S ADVANCE FOILED.

Boers' Entrenchment on His Front Cannot Be Flanked—General Gatacre's Outposts Attacked—The Boer Forces Retired.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, January 5, 5 A. M.—This morning's news throws no further light upon the war situation.

Lord Methuen's cavalry scouting has developed the fact that the entrenchments of the Boers extend some forty miles, far overlapping the British positions and making flank attacks exceedingly difficult. Military analysists affirm that the Boer trenches confronting General Buller stretch away some seventeen miles, and that work upon them is pushed unremittingly.

Boers Repulsed by Gatacre.

STERKSTROOM, January 4.—General Gatacre to day met the invading force at Cyphergat, near the British advance camp at Bushmanshoek. The Boers retired hurriedly, shortly after the British artillery opened fire. The enemy occupied Molteno and Cyphergat to day, but the latter place is now reoccupied by us.

LONDON, January 4.—Further details of the fighting between General Gatacre and the Boers at Cyphergat to-day shows that 3,000 Boers, with artillery, attacked a British outpost between Cyphergat and Molteno, General Gatacre, with mounted troops, and field artillery, moved out in front of Sterkstroom and found the Boers strongly posted at Coperberg, whence they were quickly dislodged, the Boers fleeing in the direction of Stormberg. The Boers used the British guns captured December 10th and shot well, but the British kept under cover and there were no casualties on their side.

Molteno Attacked Wednesday.

The War Office has received a report from Cape Town dated Wednesday, January 3, reporting the situation in General Gatacre's district. It says:

"Dordrecht is now evacuated by Montmorency who occupies Bird's siding on the Indwe line.

"Molteno is being attacked to day by the enemy, who more or less surround the police station, but who, according to reports, are being forced back. Reinforcements of mounted infantry and field artillery have been sent by General Gatacre. The result is not known.

"A company of mounted infantry under Alderson has reconnoitered to Prieska and exchanged shots with the rebel forces on the north bank.

"No movement of Generals Methuen and French is reported."

FERRE CAMP, January 4.—A vigorous shelling of the Boers' trenches on the plain this morning forced the burghers to shift their position after their horses had stampeded.

GERMAN STEAMERS DETAINED

Cargoes of the African Liners General and Kanzler Searched for Contraband of War.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, January 4.—The Imperial mail steamer General has been detained at Aden and occupied by British troops with the object of searching her cargo, which is to be discharged. The General is owned by the German East African Line, the owners of the Bundesrath, previously captured by the British cruiser Magicienne off Delagoa bay.

HAMBURG, January 4.—Although the manifests of the German steamer General show there was no war material on board, she was compelled to discharge her cargo. The German East African Company publishes a statement in the Hamburger Nachrichten, saying that immediately on the declaration of war the company voluntary refused to forward to South Africa two consignments of arms already on board their vessels, simply to avoid trouble and delay in connection with the other portions of the cargoes. A copy of the manifest of the Bundesrath has been published, showing that her cargo did not contain contraband. The owners declare that there is absolutely no foundation for the statement that saddles and other war material have been found amid the cargo of the Bundesrath.

ROME, Jan. 4.—The German steamer Kanzler, with the Dutch and Russian Red Cross detachments for the Transvaal on board, discharged a quantity of her cargo at Naples to-day as it was contraband of war. The Kanzler belongs to the same company as the Bundesrath and General.

TROUBLE IN ROBESON COUNTY

Alleged Attempt to Lynch a Negro Convicted of Rape and Twice Reprieved by Governor Russell.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 4.—At 8:30 to night a special train with twenty-seven of the Governor's Guard aboard, left for Lumberton, N. C., where it was alleged an attempt was about to be made to lynch Reuben Ross, a negro convicted of rape on Mrs. Strickland, a white woman, and twice reprieved by Governor Russell, Governor Russell to-night made the following statement for the Associated Press:

"A negro named Reuben Ross was convicted of rape and sentenced to be hanged. I postponed the execution until Friday, January 5th, upon petition from leading men in Robeson county, including the Mayor of Red Springs, where the affair occurred, the Mayor of Maxton, a member of the Legislature from Robeson county, and half a dozen or more of the jury which tried the case, the foreman of the grand jury and many other citizens, all of whom asked for executive clemency. I have again postponed the execution for one week. This I have done at the earnest solicitation of the lawyers of the prisoner, in order to take further time to consider the case. It being represented to me that there were threats of lynching the prisoner at Lumbert n, I ordered Captain Bernard, with twenty men of the Governor's Guards, to Lumberton to-night to keep the peace."

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

Trial of Mr. A. J. Marshall at Raleigh on the Charge of Counterfeiting.

THE FIRST DAY'S EVIDENCE.

Testimony for the Prosecution—Defence Has Over Forty Witnesses—Counsel for Defendant Are Confident of His Acquittal.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., January 4.—The trial of Aquila J. Marshall began here to-day in the United States District Court, before Judge Purnell. Marshall is charged with counterfeiting, and as one reviews the first day's evidence in the case, he is forced to the conclusion that Mr. Marshall is either a very guilty man or a terrible conspiracy has been formed against him. Which it is, can only be shown when the other side of the story is heard.

The seven hours of the court to-day were taken up by the government in the introduction of evidence, which is not yet completed. Six witnesses were examined, and when adjournment was taken at 6.30 o'clock Theodore Darkeley, one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, was on the stand ready for re-direct examination. This will practically complete the government's case, there being only two or three more witnesses to testify.

The defence has here over forty witnesses and three others were sent for to-night. They are Sheriff MacRae, John M. Mayland and W. A. Farris. A large number of witnesses summoned by the defence are to prove Marshall's character, but many of them are to contradict statements made by government witnesses—Politz, Darkeley and Perry.

When court adjourned to night, Marshall and his counsel appeared to be in a hopeful mood over the prospects. "We are well satisfied with the results of the day," said Mr. Iredell Meares, one of his counsel. "The evidence they have brought out is just what we were expecting. They have not surprised us on a single point. We will be able to contradict them on every material fact. I now look upon Marshall's acquital as certain." District Attorney Bernard, who is prosecuting the case, with his assistant, Mr. Spears, appeared equally well pleased with the strength of the case they had developed, and expressed no doubt of securing a conviction. The case cannot possibly be concluded and a verdict reached before Saturday night.

The first witness was W. F. Robertson, of Wilmington. He told of a silver dollar coming into his hands and his notifying the government. This led to Detective B. F. Perry being sent to Wilmington. Perry went on the stand next and told of his operations in Wilmington, leading up to Politz's arrest. The examination of the Express Company's books led him to suspect Marshall. He telegraphed to the Pennsylvania Refining and Smelting Works at Philadelphia, and found that Marshall had ordered scrap silver, nickel, bronze and antimony. Upon this evidence, he (Perry) arrested him. Later, he said, Politz confessed and implicated Marshall.

Politz was put on the stand to repeat this confession. He said counterfeiting was carried on over his store by Marshall and a Greek named Costobelus who is now in the Albany penitentiary. Marshall, he said, bought all the material, furnaces and tools, claiming that the Greek was a plumber and that the tools bought were for use in that trade. He (Politz) did not learn the true occupation of the men till one night Darkeley caught them making money and told him. Then he went up to the room and saw them at it. Politz denied that any inducement was ever offered to him to confess. He said that some time after Costoblus went away and he (Politz) was arrested, Marshall tried to get him to go six or seven miles down the river and establish a counterfeiting plant.

Darkeley corroborated Politz in most of the evidence in regard to the counterfeiting carried on over Politz's store. He claimed that one night, on his way to his room, he saw a strange light in Politz's room. Looking in he saw Marshall and Costobelus making counterfeit money Costobelus saw him, caught him by the throat, told him if he ever revealed what he had seen, he (Costobelus) would kill him. On another occasion he looked through a key hole and saw Marshall, Costobelus and Politz making money. On cross-examination Darkeley fared very badly, denying many things which Marshall's counsel say they can prove beyond question by some of the best people in Wilmington. Unless he shows up better on re-direct examination this morning, his evidence will hardly go for much with the jury.

W. M. Loudenstager, manager of the Pennsylvania Refining and Smelting Works, produced the correspondence between that concern and Marshall. This correspondence consisted of letters of inquiry as to the price of silver, gold, nickel, bronze, antimony and other metals, letters ordering certain of these metals, and bills for the same.

Capt. J. R. Williams, Express agent at Wilmington, produced books showing that Marshall received and paid for goods ordered from Philadelphia. One of these packages, $7.80, was received on October 27, 1897, and another, $60.10, on November 19th. Sam Northrop, clerk in the Express office, testified that he delivered these packages to Marshall.

This, in short, is the evidence against Marshall, so far introduced. To day, probably about noon, the introduction of evidence for Marshall will begin.

Marshall is represented by an able array of counsel—Marsden Bellamy, Iredell Meares and George Rountree, of Wilmington, and Col. Thos. M. Argo and Busbee & Busbee, of this city.

Mrs. Marshall is here with her husband and is taking deep interest in the trial She sat near Mr. Marshall in the court room all day to day.

Witnesses were called and sworn to day as follows: For the government—B. F. Perry, J. R. Williams, Theodore Darkeley, W. H. Loudenslager, Sam Northrop, N. Paul, F. S. Burr, Nick Politz, W. F. Robertson. For defendant—C. E. Collins, G. C. Simmons, L. Gay, J. B. King, Wm. Holden, W. J. Johnson, W. A. McGowan, G. L. Bland, John Tolar, H. W. Howell, George Thomas, H. L. Peterson, Jno. Yates, Joe Edwards, H. A. Burr, J. T. Burke, J. D. Sidbury, Theo. Swann, T. F. Bell, Thomas Price, S. Siegler, R. E. Daniels, Claude Leslie, Charles Schnibben, George Roderick, S. H. Terry, W. E. Yopp, G. W. Millis, R. Helms, J. M. McGowan, A. E Pemberton, C. S. D. Hawkings, Frank Meyer, B. F. Britton, J. Augusta Hall.

Perry, in his testimony, produced fifty-eight counterfeit dollars found in Politz's safe. Also the counterfeiting outfit. This consisted of a plumber's gasoline fire pot, thirty-six earthen crucibles, seven forms for making plaster of paris moulds, a gas-burner for burnishing coins, a lot of scrap silver, pieces of antimony, blocks of babbit metal, and pieces of block tin. These articles, the witness said, were found in Politz's rooms.

The Executive Committee of the State Bar Association to-day selected Asheville as the next place of meeting for the association and June 27th as the date.
